1. Introduction

Section 96(1) of the Freedom of Information Act (1992) requires each government agency, including local governments, to prepare and publish annually an Information Statement. The Information Statement must set out:

- the agency's mission statement
- details of legislation administered
- details of the agency's structure and functions
- details of decision making functions affecting the public
- public participation in the formulation of policy and performance of agency functions
- documents held by the agency
- the operation of FOI in the agency.

This document has been prepared by the city to satisfy part five of the Act.

Copies of this document may be obtained from:

City of Subiaco
241 Rokeby Road
SUBIACO WA 6008

or on the city's website at www.subiaco.wa.gov.au

Enquiries can be made on (08) 9237 9222 or by email at city@subiaco.wa.gov.au

2. The city's vision

In 2030 the City of Subiaco is a unique, popular and welcoming place. The city celebrates its rich history, while embracing the diversity and vitality of the present. The parks, public spaces, events and recreational opportunities are easily accessible and promote a healthy and happy lifestyle. There is a diverse range of local businesses and entertainment that contribute to a lively atmosphere. The city faces the challenges of the future with strong leadership, an innovative approach and an emphasis on community values and voices. Sustainability, in all of its forms, is at the core of the community and underpins the city's operations.

3. The Local Government Act

The purpose of the Local Government Act is to provide direction to local government on the following:

- how the elected local governments are constituted
- what their functions are
- how elections are to be held
- how they are administered and financially managed.

The main themes of the Act are:

- autonomy
- public participation
- accountability
- efficiency and effectiveness.

Autonomy – Due to the fact that local government is governed by legislation and there are regulations specifying the way some things are to be done means that there is not true autonomy for local government. The reference to autonomy is has been brought about by the way the Local Government Act 1995 has been drafted. The general competence style of drafting has the effect of giving wider powers and more flexibility compared to the previous Act.

Accountable – Being accountable in public life means you are liable to have to explain your actions and give reasons for what you do (or have not done). The need for local governments to keep various registers and records is an accountability measure. So is the requirement to provide annual reports that include an assessment of the local governments' performance.

Efficiency and effectiveness – Measures in the Act that reflect the aim for greater efficiency and effectiveness are:

- the need to produce future financial plans
- the requirements for local government to evaluate its performance each year
- deregulation of the qualification required to head the administration
- separate the policy making function of the council from the administrative and managerial side of the organization.
- increasing the ability of local governments to delegate powers and duties.

4. Regulations

Throughout the Act there are references to Regulations (or prescribed). For convenience lengthy procedures that are to be followed are enacted in the form of Regulations. These have the full force of the Act and must be followed for example:

Local Government (Administration) Regulations 1996

These deal with matters in connection with part five of the Act. Amongst other things they cover requirements for conducting council, committee and electors' meetings, requirements for the disclosure of financial interests in returns & the payment of meeting attendance fees.

Local Government (Audit) Regulations 1996

These relate to Part 7 of the Act and cover the appointment & functions of the Audit Committee, auditors & the matters to be included in the audit report.

Miscellaneous Provisions

The 1995 Act repealed and replaced all the most significant sections of the 1960 Act. However, some sections of the 1960 Act remain in force through a separate major amendment that retained some of its more technical provisions.

These sections appear in a separate Act called the Local Government (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 1960.

Topics dealt with the miscellaneous provisions are:

- private swimming pools
- new street alignments
- building relating matters such as licensing & other controls
- public buildings
- power of entry & inspection of buildings
- trespassing cattle, pounds & rangers.

5. Organisational structure

The Chief Executive Officer (CEO) and four directors provide leadership for five directorates across the city.

Office of the CEO

The Office of the CEO provides communications and community engagement services for the organisation, as well as support to the Chief Executive Officer, Mayor and elected members of council.
