A spooky summer afternoon for sunset@subi

The Spooky Men of the West will entertain audiences with their kooky performance style on Sunday 3 February at JH Abrahams Reserve as part of the city's sunset@subi concert series.

The Spooky Men of the West are a chorus of fifteen men that have been described as 'a group of weirdos who sing'.

Led by sub-spookmeisters Digby Hill and Bill Brennan-Jones, the men have been refining their pointless grandeur and humour over the past seven years.

Performing a variety of songs that range from Georgian table singing to more contemporary original pieces, The Spooky Men of the West will entertain with favourites such as Don't Stand Between a Man and his Tool.

Director Digby Hill said the group explored the gap left by the demise of the sensitive new age guy, which resulted in hilarious takes on the contemporary male.

"We love performing which makes it all the more fun for the audience who often turn up with black hats and false beards to join in," Digby said.

Bring a picnic and a blanket or low chairs to JH Abrahams Reserve, The Avenue, Crawley Foreshore between 5pm and 7pm and be entertained by this hilarious group.

The sunset@subi free community concert series covers a mix of themes and genres suitable for all ages. The series runs every Sunday through to 27 February from 5pm to 7pm at various parks and reserves within the City of Subiaco.
