Lumière* launch shines light on local talent

The city invites you to the launch of Lumière, a book of photos from Photography Night Walks, at Subiaco Library on Monday 25 November at 6pm.

Photography Night Walks is a photography community that uses the camera lens to creatively explore the city. Lumière showcases the work of talented photographers who have participated in these walks, both in Perth and in Melbourne, and includes photos taken in Subiaco.

The city has worked with Photography Night Walks for the past three years to run free night walks for the local community.

Mayor Henderson said: "These walks have been very popular and a great way to show off a different side of Subiaco."

Author Jess Edgar said: "The photography night walks in Subiaco have resulted in so many fantastic photographs of the local street art, public art, light painting and street culture. When we look at the quality of photographs which have come out of the walks, it shows us anyone can take a great photo with a range of camera types."

The launch will include a book signing by the book's author Jess Edgar, with copies available for purchase on the night. Refreshments will also be provided.

For more information about the launch, contact the city on 9237 9300 or email library@subiaco.wa.gov.au
