

2018 SHAUN TAN AWARD FOR YOUNG ARTISTS – WINNERS ANNOUNCED

The ceremony for the 2018 Shaun Tan Award for Young Artists was held at Subiaco Library on Monday night to acknowledge 15 finalists across 5 age categories, from lower primary school to upper secondary school.

This year, the city received more than 1500 entries, with almost 20 per cent from regional areas, including Kununurra, Nullagine, Albany and Denmark. Entries from Dongara and Kununurra made the final 50, which are now on display as part of an exhibition at Subiaco Library until Sunday 5 August.

The final 50 artworks were carefully selected by an experienced panel of judges made up of local illustrators, children’s authors, artists and educators.

In a pre-recorded video, internationally renowned artist and award patron Shaun Tan commented that he was impressed by the sheer diversity of styles, subject matter and approach that each artist had taken. He said that after sixteen years of the Shaun Tan Award, he was proud that its basic purpose had remained the same – “to give young artists a place to submit and share their work.”

COMMUNITY NOTICES

HELP SHAPE THE VISION FOR SUBI EAST

The State Government is planning for the redevelopment of Subi East and is seeking input from the community to help shape the vision for the area.

With the recent closure of Princess Margaret Hospital and work commencing on the new Inner City College, the north-eastern corner of Subiaco will be reimagined as a desirable destination to live, work and play – and create a new gateway to Subiaco.

LandCorp and the Metropolitan Redevelopment Authority (MRA) have asked a local independent research firm to run a survey of nearby residents, businesses and visitors. Next week those within the survey area – which includes all City of Subiaco properties – will receive information in their letterboxes about how to participate. Look out for this flyer and make sure you complete the online survey by Sunday 5 August.

If you have any questions about the project, visit www.landcorp.com.au/subieast or email subieast@landcorp.com.au
