

World-class jazz in Subiaco this spring

This spring, Subiaco is set to be transformed into a hub of lively jazz music as part of a partnership between See Subiaco and the Perth International Jazz Festival.

There will be opportunities to catch jazz gigs at the Regal Theatre, Subi Night Market, and a few top-secret pop-up locations around Subiaco.

The Subi Night Market is set to welcome a series of jazz musicians, including the Steve Hensby Trio on Saturday 4 October, Shameem on Saturday 15 November, and the Jazz Tupi Trio on Saturday 22 November. All market jazz sets will take place from 6pm to 8pm at the market, on every Saturday night in Market Square Park.

Three internationally acclaimed acts are coming to the Regal Theatre, including Gregory Porter (sold out), Samara Joy, and the Bill Frisell Trio.

There will also be two pop-up jazz performances in Subiaco during the festival. Keep an eye on www.seesubiaco.com.au for more details.

Mayor David McMullen said, "The Perth International Jazz Festival brings world-class talent to our corner of the world – and this partnership will bring vibrant music to our suburb."

"This year's festival line-up offers something for everyone, and affirms the City's commitment to investing in culture and the arts. If you're a jazz fan coming to Subiaco for a gig, make a night of it and enjoy our great bars and restaurants while you're here."

City wins national main street award

The City of Subiaco has been nationally recognised at the 2025 Mainstreet Australia Awards, taking home the Best Main Street Streetscape and Design Award for its SubiPOP Public Realm Upgrade project.

SubiPOP includes significant upgrades to Seddon Street, Postal Walk, Forrest Walk, and the Subi Greenwalks laneways, all of which have seen significant increases in use and foot traffic, and are now safe, connected, and cultural hubs for our community to enjoy.

Mayor David McMullen said, "Thoughtful design projects like SubiPoP are creating community hubs that are safe, welcoming and contribute to Subiaco's unique character and charm." Read more at www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/news.

Pedal power

WA Bike Month is back this October and to celebrate, the City is hosting a series of fun events and giveaways encouraging the community to hop on a bike.

Bike-themed events include a four-week Learn to Ride program for women, facilitated by WestCycle, and the annual Ride to Market event at Subi Farmers Market, where the first 100 people who ride their bikes to the market on Saturday 4 October will receive a $10 voucher.

There will also be an onsite bike mechanic offering free 15-minute bike check-ups, raffle prizes, and plenty of bike safety resources available. Read more via www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/news.

Pop-up vintage fashion

SAL_VAGE_STUDIO has moved into the pop-up space at 486 Hay Street as part of the City's partnership with creative placemakers SPACEMRKT.

The space will include a curated mix of pre-loved designer, vintage, and unique second-hand finds, with a focus on sustainable and circular fashion.

The store is open from 10.30am to 5.30pm Tuesdays to Saturdays. Read more at www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/news.

Shop sustainably in Subi

The Western Metropolitan Regional Council (WMRC) Textile Trail is back this October, making it easier than ever to shop sustainably right here in Subiaco.

The Textile Trail is a self-guided tour that you can complete from Monday 6 October to Sunday 12 October by picking up a physical map at any of the local stops, which include the Earthwise Community Op Shop, Salvos Subiaco, Luxe Designer Fashion Hire, and more.

There are also a number of textile-themed events and workshops taking place at Subiaco Library, including a Sewing Workshop Series with Studio Thimbles.

Read the full list of participating shops and RSVP for the trail at www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/news.

2025 Rate Notices coming soon

City of Subiaco ratepayers will receive their 2025-26 Rate Notices in October 2025.

This year, ratepayers will have a new payment reference number on their Rate Notices, and Bpoint payment details will also be updated and different to previous years. Please do not reuse Bpoint biller codes and account numbers from 2024 or earlier.
