Christmas magic in the City

There's Christmas cheer for all ages in the City of Subiaco this festive season!

The Subiaco Twilight Trail is back to light up the night, with eight spectacular large-scale installations; including a big Santa, the iconic golden tree, and a giant hot air balloon, weaving a trail through the heart of Subiaco.

Subiaco's Christmas Cocktail trail is back by popular demand. From Friday 28 November, embark on a self-guided adventure through local bars and eateries for exclusive festive cocktails. Highlights on this year's trail include the Merry Matcha at Refuge Small Bar and the Gingerbread Martini at the Subiaco Hotel.

The sunset@subi Christmas concert is back at Lake Jualbup from 6pm to 8pm on Sunday 21 December, where you can enjoy Christmas carols, popular Christmas songs, and perhaps a visit from the big man in red himself.

Kids can post their letters to Santa at Subiaco Library from Monday 1 December (with replies arriving straight from the North Pole every Tuesday until 23 December), and there will also be a special Christmas Storytime with Santa and his elf in Rankin Gardens on Tuesday 9 December.

And finally, the Subi Night Market will be running all festive season long, on Saturday evenings from 5pm to 9pm in Market Square Park.

Visit www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/news for more information on all things festive in Subiaco this December.

New playground open at Mueller Park

Subiaco's newest playground – and very first flying fox – is now open! The playground at Mueller Park incorporates new play equipment and other facilities including new barbeques, a water fountain, and an upgraded shade sail.

The playground design was informed by community feedback. Read more at www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/news.

Planning team wins big

The City's Planning team took home a whopping six awards at the Planning Institute of Australia (WA) on Friday 21 November, receiving the most accolades of any other organisation in attendance on the night.

The wins include Local Government Team of the Year, Improving Planning Processes, Performance and Innovation in Development, and Emerging Planner of the Year for Senior Strategic Planning Officer Emily Robertson.

Read more about the wins at www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/news.

Iconic sunset concerts back this summer

The sunset@subi concert series is back for its 38th season, kicking off with a special Christmas concert at Lake Jualbup on Sunday 21 December.

These concerts, which take place on select Sunday evenings during summer from 6pm to 8pm, are a great way to make the most of the warmer weather with family and friends.

View the full line-up of concerts, which include jazz, rhythm and blues, and Brit pop, at www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/concerts.

Bulk green waste collection

A bulk green waste collection will take place on Monday 8 December. This is the final bulk green waste collection for the City before transitioning to a pre-booked service.

For this collection, please note that up to three cubic metres of loose green waste can be placed on verges 1-3 days prior to collection (but no later than 7am on the morning of collection). Read more at www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/waste.

Celebrating all abilities

In celebration of International Day of People with Disability (IDPWD), the City is hosting a series of inclusive, all-ability events.

Running from Monday 1 December to Saturday 6 December, events include Auslan Baby Rhymetime sessions, a Sensory Storytime with Sensorium Theatre, and a community workshop called 'Understanding Deafblindness'.
