Explore Subiaco's arts scene this summer

See Subiaco have teamed up with local tour company Oh Hey WA to launch Subi Art Walks, a series of guided walking tours showcasing the best of Subiaco's arts and culture scene.

Throughout November, the Murals and Markets tour will feature a guided exploration of Subiaco's murals, and the Shenton Park Gallery Experience tour will take visitors behind the scenes at three distinct art galleries in Shenton Park.

As the festive season draws closer, Festive Sundowner walks on 2, 9, and 16 December will offer a fun, mid-week evening of art, local hospitality, and more artworks.

Mayor David McMullen said the tours are set to present a fresh perspective on Subiaco's arts and culture scene.

"These tours are a different way to experience Subiaco. Exploring on foot gives you the chance to take things in, experience the place properly, and discover something new along the way.

"Whether you're planning a visit to a local art gallery or a catch-up in the lead-up to Christmas, these walking tours will make a great outing, especially paired with everything else Subiaco has to offer."

Thousands flock to spooky Subi

There was no shortage of tricks or treats in Subiaco last weekend, with thousands of ghosts, ghouls, and Halloween fans descending on the town centre for Spookiaco, the City's first large-scale Halloween celebration.

Presented by See Subiaco, the event saw Subiaco embrace its spooky side with a Halloween edition of the Subi 'Fright' Market, haunted laneways, and a larger-than-life art installation called MONSTERS CAN'T FLY by Matthew Aberline and The Beautiful Useful Studio.

While Halloween weekend is behind us, these giant inflatable monsters are staying in Subi until Sunday 8 November, so come down to Market Square Park to see them by day or by night before they're gone. See more at www.seesubiaco.com.au.

New garden beds for Theatre Gardens

The City has commenced works to transform much of the artificial stream at Theatre Gardens into landscaped garden beds, while preserving the lower and largest pond as a dedicated wildlife habitat.

These changes will provide an interim solution as the City explores longer-term renewal options for the water feature. Works will involve draining and cleaning the upper sections of the stream before installing drainage, soil, and new plants.

Join us for Remembrance Day

On the eleventh hour of the eleventh day of the eleventh month – we will remember them.

Join the Subiaco-Shenton Park RSL and the City of Subiaco for a Remembrance Day Service at the Fallen Soldier's Memorial, followed by morning tea at Subiaco Museum on Tuesday 11 November.

Community members are encouraged to arrive at 10.30am for a 10.45am start. See more information at www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/events.

New SPACEMRKT location now open

A content creation studio with a flexible event space has opened at 500 Hay Street as part of the City's partnership with creative placemakers SPACEMRKT.

'Club25', opened by Diva Dates founders Brittany Van Moorsel and Isabella Osborne, offers space for Perth's creative community to connect, collaborate, and build meaningful relationships. The new space will play host to a series of events including craft workshops, live music, and a coffee and matcha pop-up.

Final chance: Have your say on the proposed Waylen Road scheme amendment

The City has received an order under section 76 of the Planning and Development Act 2005 for Scheme Amendment No. 5 to Local Planning Scheme No. 5. The Minister for Planning has modified the proposed scheme amendment to increase the density of No. 37 Waylen Road, Shenton Park, from Residential R15 to Residential R100.

You can view more details, and the proposed amendment documents, at www.haveyoursay.subiaco.wa.gov.au.

Submissions will be accepted by 5pm Wednesday 11 November 2026.
