Subi Blooms to arrive in Subiaco next weekend

Subiaco's streets will burst into bloom this Mother's Day weekend as the Subi Blooms x Gather festival returns for its biggest year yet!

The event, which is set to take over Subiaco from Friday 8 May to Sunday 10 May, will feature international floristry talent, large-scale installations, and a glowing night-time experience.

Now in its eighth year, the 2026 festival theme is 'Floral Aurora', and this year, a 'blooms-by-night' experience will see multiple installations lit up as the sun goes down.

Bryce Heyworth, the founder and creative director of Sydney's September Studio (whose videos have captivated more than 1.6 million Instagram followers worldwide), is headlining this year's festival in collaboration with Perth floral studio Fox & Rabbit.

The two floral powerhouses will join forces for an installation called 'Solar Flare' at the Subiaco Oval Heritage Gates.

Other installations along the trail include a cottage garden inspired by Australian natives, a laneway dressed in rainbow florals and a forest canopy at Kannis Laneway.

Mayor David McMullen said the festival is one of the state's most loved cultural events.

"The Subi Blooms x Gather festival has become a highlight on the City's events calendar, bringing tens of thousands of visitors to Subiaco to celebrate the creativity and colour of floral artistry throughout our iconic town centre," he said.

Subi Blooms is presented by See Subiaco, a City of Subiaco initiative.

Minute with the MAYOR

A quick monthly update from Mayor David McMullen

It was a privilege to deliver an address at the Anzac Day service hosted by City of Subiaco, and the Subiaco-Shenton Park RSL Sub-Branch.

I contrasted our peaceful existence with the volatility occurring elsewhere in the world. And I noted that we would not have what we have here, were it not for the veterans of past conflicts, and those who have served since in the Australian Defence Force.

A pleasure to see so many people come out for the ceremony.

Gold endorsement for City

The City of Subiaco has again been recognised as a Gold Waterwise Council as part of the Water Corporation's Waterwise Council program.

The City has been a waterwise Council since 2011, and was commended this year for its efforts in water sensitive urban design; including the installation of soak wells, raingardens, and new greening concepts.

Happy snapping

The 2026 Photographic Awards are back for 2026, with entries opening at 11am on Monday 4 May!

This year, the awards' judging panel is welcoming a new member: award-winning Subiaco-based photographer Garry Sarre, who has more than 40 years of experience across advertising, fashion, commercial and portrait photography.

Garry's advice for budding photographers is simple; "If you choose something that you love to take photos of, there's going to be a lot of people that see that love through your images."

Garry will join Subiaco photographers Robert Frith and Stef Kind for the 2026 award, which last year received a record number of 1250 photographs entered.

There is more than $5000 in prize money up for grabs across a range of categories, including Nature, AI, and People and Portraits.

$3 native plants this May

The annual Native Plant Subsidy Scheme is returning in May 2026, offering City residents the opportunity to purchase up to 40 native seedlings for $3 each from Apace Nursery in North Fremantle.

Residents can pick up new natives from Tuesday to Saturday from 8.30am to 2.30pm until stocks run out.

Not only do native plants look beautiful in your garden, they also require little water and fertiliser once established and contribute to local biodiversity.
