

Photographic Awards winners announced

Kerry Faulkner has taken out top honours in the City of Subiaco's 2026 Photographic Awards for Flex.

The winners were announced at a ceremony at Subiaco Library on Monday 7 September. Category winners were Glenda Gore for Cottesloe Mermaids (Open), Alex Verhagen for Flight (Nature), Madeleine Fogliani for Handlebars and Hard Landings (People and portrait), Edison Suarez for Tiny Universe (AI), Miley Jasper for Fallen in Light (Youth), Indigo Hardisty for Summer's Sunset (my sister's name is Summer) (Kids), and Joseph Rae for Bodyslam (Resident's prize).

For the first time, the judging panel was made up entirely of Subiaco-based photographers, with new judge Garry Sarre joining Robert Frith and Stef King.

Mayor David McMullen congratulated all entrants.

"The City's Photographic Awards are a longstanding part of our cultural calendar, giving photographers of all ages and experience levels a platform to share their creativity and perspective," he said.

The finalists' works remain on display at Subiaco Library until Sunday 27 September. Visitors can also vote for their favourite in the People's Choice Award.

New generation of waste trucks arrives

Four safer, greener, and quieter waste trucks have joined the City's fleet. The trucks feature 360-degree cameras to improve visibility, automatic arm-stopping technology to protect pedestrians and cyclists, and carbon dioxide sensors for early detection of battery fires.

Recycle right: What goes in your yellow-lidded bin?

Only five types of material belong in your yellow-lidded recycling bin: aluminium and steel cans, glass bottles and jars, plastic bottles and containers, flattened cardboard, and paper that has not been shredded.

Items should be empty, rinsed, dry, and placed loosely in the bin. Keep batteries, electrical items, aerosols, food scraps, meat trays, coffee cups, polystyrene, and soft plastics out.
