

The City's new Council

The Mayor and four Councillors were sworn in at a Special Council Meeting in the City's Council Chambers following the local government election on Saturday 18 October 2025.

Mayor David McMullen and returning Councillors Rosemarie De Vries (North Ward) and Penny O'Connor (Central Ward) have commenced their new four-year terms, alongside two newly elected Councillors: Daniel Fyffe in the South Ward, and Brigitte Pine in the East Ward.

They join continuing Councillors Russell Jones in the North Ward, Mark Burns in the East Ward, Nicola Johnston in the Central Ward and Rick Powell in the South Ward.

At the Special Council Meeting, Councillor Rick Powell was elected Deputy Mayor.

Mayor David McMullen said, "I'm feeling proud and grateful, and feeling a sense of responsibility, to know that I have been returned as Mayor, for another term. This is an endorsement of everything that our Council has done these past four years – a period that has been characterised by good governance, professionalism, and professional working relationships.

"In 2026 and beyond, we will remain a high-performing Council and local government, we will progress significant projects, and we will continue to deliver high quality services and amenity for our community.

"I'd like to thank all those people on Council (past and present), City staff, and the Subiaco community who have supported us along the way."

Subiaco Museum turns 50

Subiaco Museum officially opened its doors 50 years ago, on 2 November 1975. To celebrate its golden anniversary, the museum is hosting a special exhibition called '50 Objects, 50 Years'.

The exhibition will showcase 50 key objects and treasures from the museum's collection. It will open on Saturday 1 November and run through until early 2026.

Stay tuned for more information about this special anniversary, including fun events, at www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/news.

Classic cars are back

Classic car and motoring fans are invited to join the third Classic Cars & Coffee event in Subiaco, 'Subi to Swan', on Sunday 16 November.

The day will feature an impressive line-up of more than 200 vintage cars, rare luxury vehicles, and supercars. It kicks off at 8am in Market Square Park, where you can view the cars and enjoy food, coffee and entertainment before the cars depart in a procession along Rokeby Road on their way to the Swan Valley.

New businesses

A warm welcome to Subiaco's newest businesses! Recent additions to Subi's food and drink scene include Quello Bar, Bishop Street Café and Nautical Bowls.

Stunning boutique Cavana has opened its doors on Rokeby Road, and Sanctum Studio and Pronto Pilates are now open at ONE Subiaco. Read more about these new openings at www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/news.

Spooky fun in Subi

There's plenty of spooky fun to be had in Subiaco this Halloween, kicking off with a Kids Halloween Art Hunt with Oh Hey WA, which will kick off at 4pm on Sunday 1 November and include a series of fun challenges, Halloween treats, and amazing street art. Book your spot at www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/events.

The walking tour winds up at the Subi Night Market, where families can enjoy a free screening of E.T. the Extra-Terrestrial under the stars. Come along from 5pm for free popcorn, a live band, giant lawn games, face painting, and delicious food from the market.

Young writers awarded

Winners of the prestigious 2025 Craig Silvey Award for Young Writers were announced at a special ceremony at Subiaco Library. This year's award attracted more than 1180 entries from school students across the state, with Daglish resident Caleb Kameron taking out the top prize for his story 'The Other Brother'.

In his address during the ceremony, patron and award-winning author Craig Silvey said, "Your stories made me laugh, made me gasp, made me tense, made me cry. I hope you all continue writing as you are all astonishingly talented and the world needs more of your words."

The award-winning stories, and finalists' entries, are on display at Subiaco Library until Sunday 26 October.
