Free laundry services at support centre

The City's weekly homelessness support walk-in centre is introducing free laundry services from Orange Sky Australia.

Orange Sky aims to provide support and inclusion to anyone experiencing homelessness or hardship, with a focus on improving hygiene, health, and quality of life.

The City first engaged The Salvation Army's Homelessness Services Team in September 2023 to deliver a weekly walk-in centre to help support some of our most vulnerable community members.

Since then, centre workers have referred people to accommodation services, mental health providers, and physical health services, as well as providing essential material aid, first aid, and other services including haircuts, grooming, and showers.

Mayor David McMullen said, "By introducing new services like Orange Sky's free laundry, we increase the walk-in centre's support offering, and continue to make a difference for vulnerable individuals – who otherwise would have limited access to the types of basic services available at the centre."

Architect announced for new Civic Precinct

At its May Ordinary Council Meeting, Council endorsed the appointment of Lyons as lead architect firm for the design of the new Civic Building and its surrounds.

The Civic Building at 241 Rokeby Road sits alongside the Evelyn H Parker Library, Subiaco Museum, the Fallen Soldiers Memorial, and Rankin Gardens.

The selection involved a two-stage tender process which saw three submissions considered by a panel of architecture industry leaders.

Mayor David McMullen said, "With Lyons and their team now appointed, the first order of business will be to map out a design process and timeline to get to a preliminary design - which we will be excited to release for the important exercise of community consultation."

5000kg of donations received

Residents have avoided almost 43 tonnes of carbon emissions, thanks to a recent household collection of pre-loved clothing and accessories.

The collection is part of an innovative partnership between the City of Subiaco and Good Sammy, which makes it simple for residents to divert household items from landfill.

Thank you to the 577 households who donated pre-loved clothes, shoes, handbags, kitchenware, toys and more as part of this collection. Stay tuned for the next one!

Heritage grants awarded

The City has approved five grants for works on heritage properties as part of its Heritage Grants Fund.

Amongst the grants are works that include re-roofing, replacing and repairing verandah decking, crack repairs, and re-pointing fretting mortar.

5 for $35 at Lords

If you've been thinking about hitting the treadmill, pool or bike, June is the perfect time to trial Lords Recreation Centre, as they'll be offering five passes for just $35.

These passes will allow entry to the gym, pool, and group fitness classes, and are available to all new or returning Lords members.

This offer runs from Tuesday 3 June to Monday 30 June. Read all the details at www.lords.com.au/5-for-35.

Tech, Tea and Treats at library

A new digital support series called 'Tech, Tea and Treats' is set to launch at Subiaco Library, offering comprehensive support for people who want to build their digital skills.

These events will take place at 10am on the last Friday of every month, and will include a brief presentation on a tech-related topic, and the chance to ask questions and chat to an expert over a cuppa and a treat.

Upcoming topics include apps for travelling, iPhone and Android basics, staying safe when online shopping, and spotting scams.
