Another win for heritage in Subiaco

The State Administrative Tribunal (SAT) has decided in favour of the City of Subiaco, affirming the City's decision to refuse a demolition permit for the buildings at 424-428 Hay Street which, if approved, would have resulted in the loss of local heritage.

Mayor David McMullen welcomed the long-awaited SAT decision.

"The City refused the demolition permit back in October 2022; a decision which the SAT has now affirmed as 'correct and preferable', dismissing the application for review. The effect of this decision is that approval for the demolition works is required under the City's local planning scheme before a demolition permit can be issued.

"The City has been abundantly clear right from the beginning. This site has significant development potential, and we want to see a high-quality development that celebrates – rather than destroys – the heritage in the existing buildings. Our community values its local heritage; and developers who want to do business here have a responsibility not to ignore that."

Minute with the MAYOR

A quick monthly update from Mayor David McMullen

Just one more week to vote in the Local Government elections.

We've had a great Council the last few election cycles and your vote will ensure that the three available Councillor positions get filled with the best people for the coming term.

Ask the candidates about their professional background; their link with Subi; their understanding of local government and the role of a Councillor; and their knowledge of the City's Council Plan and strategic pillars for the next 10 years.

Craig Silvey to host Subi book launch

Award-winning WA author Craig Silvey is set to pay Subiaco a visit as part of his Australian tour to celebrate the release of his latest book, 'Runt and the Diabolical Dognapping'.

The event, which will take place on Saturday 8 November, is one of only two stops in Perth as part of the tour. The celebration will include stories, snacks, scavenger hunts and a few special surprises.

Tickets will go fast, to book your spot visit www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/events.

City supports tennis club centenary

The City is proud to support the Onslow Park Tennis Club's centenary celebrations, which kick off this month with a community open day and afternoon tea.

The open day on Saturday 18 October from 2pm to 5pm is free to attend, and will include an exhibition of photographs and memorabilia from the club's 100-year history, as well as the chance to have a play.

This event, and a Gala Ball on Friday 7 November, are proudly supported by the City of Subiaco's Community Development Grant program.

Visit www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/events for details on both events.

New Subi walking tours

Local tour operator Oh Hey WA, with the support of See Subiaco, is set to launch a brand-new series of walking tours throughout Subiaco.

The series kicks off on Friday 17 October with the Subi Art Walk, with other highlights including a family-focused 'Spookiaco' Halloween tour, the Walk to UnWined which ends at the popular UnWined Subiaco food and wine festival, and the Murals, Music and Markets tours which feature the weekly Subi Night Market.

Mayor David McMullen said, "Subiaco is known for its walkability and village-like atmosphere so these tours are the ideal way to showcase our City's rich offerings for all ages."

Learn more and book your spots on the tours at www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/events.

Rate Notices for 2025/26

Residents who have signed up for eRates will have received their 2025/26 Rate Notices last week, and Rate Notices sent via post are on the way.

This year, Rate Notices will have a new payment reference ('Ref') number, which must be used for all payments.

Visit our website www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/rates for FAQs and more information on 2025/26 Rate Notices.

Notice of Special Council Meeting

A Special Council Meeting will be held at 5.30pm on Tuesday 21 October to swear in newly elected members, and to host the election of the Deputy Mayor.

Please note the October Agenda Briefing Forum previously scheduled for this date has been cancelled. Read more via www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/public-notice.

Your ideas for International Day of People with Disability (IDPwD)

Each year, the City runs events and workshops in the first week of December to celebrate IDPwD.

We'd love to hear your ideas for activities or workshops that are meaningful and accessible for everyone. Share your ideas via our short online survey at www.haveyoursay.subiaco.wa.gov.au.

Firebreak notice

In accordance with the Bush Fires Act 1954, residents within the City are required to keep their properties fire safe by keeping grass below 5cm in length, making sure trees and shrubs near structures are appropriately pruned, and roofs and gutters are free of flammable material.

For more advice on being fire safe as we head into summer, visit www.subiaco.wa.gov.au/news.
