

New museum shop open and exhibition on now

Subiaco Museum has reopened its doors after a summer break, with two new exciting offerings: an exhibition in the museum's community artist series, and a museum shop.

The 'Up Close and Personal' exhibition displays works by artist Helen Street, including one work exhibited at the Black Swan Prize. Helen's detailed photorealistic portraits of her daughters showcase her beautifully unique style of painting.

At the new shop you can find merchandise featuring a bespoke design by artist Jane Coffey which celebrates the museum and its location on Rokeby Road. You can also purchase a print, or even a jigsaw or a tea towel, of our 'Subiaco: Bush to Suburb, 1851 - 1945' heritage map, created by local artist Mary Yates.

Also on sale are local history books, photographs from the museum's collection, badges and magnets. A perfect place to find an unusual gift for a friend or family member, or even just a present to treat yourself.

Celebrate Library Lovers' Day

Subiaco Library is inviting you to go on a blind date with a book this February.

Select a book from the 'Library Lovers' display, which features staff's all-time favourite reads... with a literary twist.

The books are wrapped in brown paper and labelled with a short poem to give readers a sneak peek of what's inside. Will you find an old favourite, or fall in love with something new?

You can also write a sonnet, limerick, or haiku to add to the display.
